PADUCAH, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1902.

10 CENTS PER WEEK

TO ISSUE CITY BONDS

Speaker Reed, of the Council, Issues a Call for a Meeting Tomorrow.

Matter of Voting Sufficient Bonds for Needed Improvements to Be Considered.

THOUGHT $200,000 WILL DO

Speaker Charles Reed, of the councilmanic body, today called a meeting of the street committee of the general council for tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall to consider the matter of passing an ordinance authorizing a vote on the issuance of bonds for needed improvements in Paducah. The meeting is fraught with importance, and on its action may depend largely the progress of Paducah for at least a year.

The members of the committee are Aldermen Leigh, Greif, and Jones, and Councilman Hannau, Potter and Hummel. With it will meet Mayor Yeiser, Speaker Reed and City Attorney Worlen.

Speaker Reed stated to a reporter this morning in regard to the call: "This meeting is for the purpose of taking the necessary steps towards providing for the city improvements that have been recommended. If we do not vote bonds at the approaching November election, we cannot do it for another year, which will prevent us from making these improvements this year, or next year. It may delay the work two years unless we begin now."

"My idea is to have the legislative body pass an ordinance authorizing a vote on the bond issue by the people at the approaching November election. Of course all these bonds must be voted by the people, and if they are not voted at this election, they cannot be until the election in the following November."

"We should get to work now if we are going to do anything, so as to provide for these improvements if we expect to make them this year or next."

That is the reason this committee has been called together. It will decide on whether or not to recommend to the council the passage of the ordinance authorizing the vote, and if it is recommended, the amount of bonds desired will be fixed, and the vote taken. After the bonds are authorized, the improvements can begin as soon as they are issued."

Mr. Reed thinks that $200,000 will be sufficient to build a new city hospital, market house and what brick streets are needed. It is estimated that the hospital and market house could be erected for $50,000, and perhaps much less. Chairman Brooks, of the hospital committee, thinks that it would cost $25,000, to build a hospital, but others do not seem to think this much would be necessary.

Miss Rose Sloan will spend the winter in Chicago visiting relatives.

NOT A TRACE

Mr. Mc Gill Returns to Pennsylvania Without Brother's Remains.

Part of a Woman's Limb Found Below the Wreck a Few Days Ago.

Mr. E. S. McGill, of Tidoute, Pa., who has been in the vicinity of Cairo and the wreck of the Pittsburgh, passed through the city this morning en route back home.

He had been there searching for the remains of his brother, Mr. L. B. McGill, who was lost in the burning of the ill-fated steamer. He never found a trace of his brother's remains although he had been there several times since the disaster and spent several hundred dollars. Saturday a leg with a part of a woman's shoe on it was found on a dyke about one mile below the wreck, and this is the last thing that has been found that might have come from the wreck.

MOST PROGRESSIVE.

MR. RODNEY C. DAVIS FINDS THE SOUTH IMPROVED GREATLY.

Mr. Rodney C. Davis returned this morning from a trip south. Mr. Davis was a drummer until about six years ago when he left the road, and this was his first trip south since.

He found a vast change everywhere he went. He went to places that were mere country towns when he made his last trip to them, and found them to be thoroughly modernized now. Electricity was almost unknown then, while now electric lights blaze in every town and furnish most of the power used. Mr. Davis says he never saw anything like the southern cities for progress. In many of them the finest buildings are going up, and the best streets made.

RETURNS HOME.

MR. M. G. COPE BACK IN PADUCAH AFTER A SEVERAL YEARS' ABSENCE.

Mr. M. G. Cope, the well known former banker, after a four years' absence returned last night and joined his family here. Mr. Cope, it is understood, has been living in Springfield, Mo., during his absence. Mr. Cope, it is understood, is prepared to give the $1,000 bond on an indictment found at Covington, Ky., in the federal court against him some time ago.

STRINGER CAUGHT.

REQUISITION PAPERS ARRIVE AND HE WILL BE BROUGHT BACK.

The requisition papers for Irving Stringer, who is wanted at Melber, Ky., for housebreaking, arrived this morning and have been forwarded to the authorities in Missouri and when the proper action has been taken Captain Bailey will go to Charleston, Mo., where the man is held, to return him here. He broke into a mill and was arrested but escaped.

LIGHT SALES.

NOT MUCH IS DOING IN TOBACCO CIRCLES THIS WEEK.

The tobacco market this week was light generally. This is between seasons and there is little tobacco to be sold.

The total offerings at all the houses amounted to only 43. There was only about three hogheads of lugs offered and the remainder was leaf. The prices were about the same as last week. The rejections were light.

A TOWN BOMBARDED

Ciudad Bolivar Under Fire for Two Days.

Many Persons Reported Killed and British Subjects are Clamoring for Protection.

FIGHT WAS HOT IN HAYTI

Caracas, Venezuela, August 27.—Ciudad Bolivar, capital of the state of Bolivar, has been bombarded by a Venezuelan government warship and many persons were killed and wounded. The place has a large British population and the British subjects have requested that a warship of Great Britain be sent for their protection. It is alleged that atrocities have been committed at Ciudad Bolivar by both the government troops and the revolutionists.

Ciudad Bolivar is still in the power of the revolutionists. The town was fired upon day and night by the gunboats Bolivar and Restaurador, which attempted to land forces to re-occupy the place. About 600 shells were fired into the city. When the ammunition of the Restaurador was exhausted she left for LaGuayra to obtain additional supplies after which the bombardment will be resumed.

There are no foreign warships in the Orinoco river to protect the interests of the powers and the British government is being blamed in certain quarters for abandoning the three thousand subjects of Great Britain who reside in the district of Ciudad Bolivar.

CONFIRMED BY MINISTER BOWEN.

Washington, August 27.—United States Minister Bowen at Caracas, Venezuela, advises the state department by telegraph that a government warship recently arriving at LaGuayra reports for two days she bombarded Ciudad Bolivar, after which she withdrew, having exhausted her ammunition.

NO RELATIVES FOUND YET.

The body of Henry Miller, who died Sunday night at the city hospital, is still being held. Undertaker Nance has not been able to find any relatives and will bury the body within a few days if no communications have been received from his people.

Beckham Addresses a Communication on Rumors.

Chairman McChord to Call the Railroad Commission Together.

Frankfort, Ky., August 27.—In a letter addressed to Chairman McChord, of the state railroad commission, Governor Beckham has called the attention of that official to the present rumors of a merger, or consolidation, of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company and the Southern Railroad company by the Morgan interests, and directs an immediate investigation that he may take steps to prevent its consummation in violation of the state constitution. Chairman McChord responded immediately to the communication. In his response he says that the state railroad commission has already had the proposed merger up for discussion, and that the body would begin immediately a thorough investigation regarding it. Chairman McChord will call the commission together early next week, and the work of ascertaining the truth of the rumors begin. The commission will hold its first meeting here and will adjourn to Louisville.

The Elks will hold their regular meeting tomorrow night, and Dr. C. E. Whitesides, who was representative from Paducah lodge to the grand lodge, will make his official report of the proceedings of the body, and an interesting talk is promised. The meeting of the grand lodge this time was one of the largest and most important in the history of the order, and Dr. Whitesides was an attentive participant in the meeting.

MRS. J. L. STUNSON DEAD.

POPULAR LADY OF MAYFIELD A VICTIM OF CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. J. L. Stunson, age 25, died at Mayfield this morning of consumption. She was the daughter of Mr. W. S. Hunt, of Mayfield, a prominent resident, and had been ill for some time. She leaves besides her parents three brothers and three sisters. They are Messrs. Ben and Joe and H. H. Hunt, all of Mayfield, and Mrs. Gus Covington and Misses Mary and Jettie Hunt, of Mayfield.

FORTY IN JAIL.

HIST JONES HAS A LARGE CROWD OF BOARDERS.

There are forty prisoners in the county jail but all are not jury prisoners. There are some few who are serving out terms but excepting a few all the prisoners now jailed are awaiting the action of the jury. There are many who are out on bond who will also be acted upon at the coming sitting of the grand jury.

STILL COOL.

THE TEMPERATURE HAS BEEN AS LOW AS 65 FOR SEVERAL NIGHTS.

The cool weather continues, and the rain has made the temperature quite pleasant, compared with what it had been for several weeks past.

The highest it has been for two or three days was 80, and the lowest 65. The rainfall up to 7 o'clock this morning was 0.75 of an inch.

HE LOST ONLY ONE

Excellent Shooting of Mr. R. O. Heike at Today's Shoot.

The Rain Keeps Away the Spectators But the Tournament Goes on Just the Same.

NAMES OF THE WINNERS

TODAY'S SHOOT.

This is another bad day for the gun club boys and their visitors, but there were as many marksmen at the second day of the tournament as the first, and perhaps more.

The feature of today's shooting was Mr. Heike's work. Up to this afternoon he had lost but one bird, out of a total of nearly one hundred shot at. It was a remarkable score, especially when the weather is considered.

Mr. P. C. Ward, of Hickman, also did good shooting, and all the boys are showing an improvement over yesterday's work.

On account of the rain, it was decided to postpone indefinitely the ladies reception. The necessity of it was regretted very much by the members of the club.

The visitors are seemingly enjoying themselves very much, and tomorrow several additions are anticipated to the ranks from other crack shots who desired to enter the live bird shoot alone. It is probable that the purse will be as much as $1,000.

YESTERDAY'S EVENTS.

While the rain did not prevent any of yesterday's events, it seemed to produce bad marksmanship, and the shooting was rather below the average.

There were perhaps seventy-five entries, but only about forty stayed throughout them all. The number broken by each shooter, out of 175 targets, was as follows:

Phillips 160, LeBompte 158, Spencer 157, Pfeiffer 156, Ben Starr 156, Ward 155, Money 155, Brady 153, Brough 153, Eicks 152, Hansbro 151, Carter 151, Moses Starr 150, Robertson 148, Martin 147, Mitchell 147, Lewis 147, Davis 145, Hillman 145, McMillen 145, Wierding 143, Shields 143, Wilkins 142, Gus Mitchell 142, Hood 140, Rouse 140, Long 139, Eaker 138, Watson 134, Rozz 133, Meadows 133, Legler 133, Koehler 129, Allen 126, Jones 128, Thompson 125, Kennedy 123, Lyle 105, Phillips 100, Steward 82.

The money winners during the day were as follows: Mercer $11.45, Ward $26.95, Brady $26.40, Robertson $22.45, Legler $10.55, Carter $26.70, Shields $16.25, Martin $21.85, Phillips $1.75, Jones $6.25, Koehler $12.50, Davis $19.25, Hansbro $23.15, Brough $26.10, Ben Starr $26, Pfeiffer $27.75, Hillman $21.12, Gus Mitchell $18.05, George Mitchell $18.25, McMillen $19.85, LeBompte $29.25, Moses Starr $21.05, Aren $13.86, Meadows $7.40, Allen $5.90, Long $15.25, Torry $2.65, Eaker $18.80, Lewis $18, McGehee $15.40, Kimball $2.95, Wilkins $13.75, Rouse $17.65, Armstrong $3.85, Thompson $5.15, Lloyd $1.75, Kennedy $7.20, Tapscott $6.80, Lyle $4.50, Lar $1.84.

The visitors are much pleased with the hospitality shown them in Paducah. Mr. S. H. Page of Elkton arrived today and a large delegation expected tonight to shoot in the live bird event tomorrow.

Quite a number of spectators are hand to witness the shooting, despite the rain.

Mr. John Lane will go to Louis tomorrow to visit relatives.

THREE MURDER CASES

This is What the Docket for the Criminal Term of Court Shows.

There are 125 Old Cases From the Last Term of Court for Trial at This.

NEW INDICTMENTS PROMISED

The September criminal term of circuit court begins Monday next, on which the grand jury will be impaneled for three weeks. As there has been no criminal court since April, it is expected that there will be a great deal of business before Judge Hinshands.

There are 125 cases on the docket, already made out, the jail is well filled with those awaiting indictment, and the grand jury will doubtless return many indictments against persons not in jail, hence the session is bound to be a busy one.

There will be three charges of murder to try. One is against Spot Polk, another against Warner Woolfolk, charged with killing George Gray, and another against Charles Gordon, held over a few days ago for killing George Howard.

Other cases of interest are: E. M. Headley, alleged attempted bribery.

Sam Liebel, alleged attempted bribery.

Mary M. De Macheunes, false swearing.

Ulrich Boyer, false swearing.

There is a large number of cases for malicious assault, malicious cutting and shooting, larceny and house breaking.

LUTHERAN APPROPRIATIONS.

TWENTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR VARIOUS INSTITUTIONS.

Michigan City, Ind., August 27—The Evangelical Lutheran synod has made the general appropriations for the support of the various institutions of the synod for the coming two years, $24,000 being apportioned among six institutions. The synod is of the opinion that the education of the orphan children in Christian families is to be preferred to orphan homes, and advises the orphan board to place children in such families as the opportunities may permit. The synod recommended the publication of a graded series of Sunday school books in both English and German and the publication of the Theological Magazine in Columbus, Ohio, was ordered continued.

PLUCKY JAILER'S WIFE.

PREVENTS ESCAPE BY MEANS OF A SHOTGUN AT COVINGTON.

Covington, Tenn., August 27—Nineteen prisoners in the county jail here made an attempt to break out in the absence of the jailer, and nearly succeeded. They had bored through the top of the cage and were about to break through the roof, when the wife of Jailer Smith took a hand. She armed a negro "trusty," and, taking her husband's shotgun, covered the prisoners and kept them still until her husband's return. The prisoners were then forced to return to their cells.

The young man named Bailey, who was cut and almost disemboweled near Murray at a picnic last Saturday by a man named Boyd over 15 cents, was still alive at last accounts, although recovery seems impossible.

REMARRIES FORMER WIFE

SOLDIER MOURNED AS DEAD 37 YEARS RETURNS TO HIS HOME.

Menasha, Wis., August 27—George A. Thurston, an employe of the Appleton printing and paper company, believed to have been killed on a battlefield 37 years ago, and since then mourned by his wife, who meanwhile had married a second husband, last week reclaimed the woman whom he had married nearly four decades ago, after she had been, as she believed, twice left a widow. Thurston enlisted with the 43d Ohio regiment during the civil war and was reported killed. When he returned to his home in Canton he found his wife gone, and has since mourned her as dead. One week ago, in Lacrosse, Wis., Thurston met his wife, who had just buried a second husband. The meeting was a pathetic one, and within a few hours after the reunion the two went before a justice of the peace and were married for the second time. Thurston returned to Appleton yesterday.

ANOTHER DIED.

HARRY GOODALE DID NOT SURVIVE INJURIES.

Harry O. Goodale, one of the engineers injured in the wreck on the Southern road near Georgetown, Ind., Sunday at the time "Reg" Duval, of Paducah, was killed, died yesterday from his injuries. The remains were taken to Mt. Vernon, Ill., for burial.

The Clyde was today laid up on account of low water and the Henry Harley will go out at 6 o'clock for Tennessee river in her place.

A STRIKE IS FEARED

Proposition Has Been Turned Down by Street Railway Employees.

Three Thousand Men Balloted on the Question, and the Company Lost by Ten to One.

COMPANY OFFERS CONCESSIONS

Chicago, August 27—Grave possibilities of a strike that may tie up all the street railway lines of the west and north sides of this city confront the officials of the Union Traction Co.

By an overwhelming vote the local union of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees has refused to accept the proposition made by President Roach several days ago. The overtures of the company, which included an increase of 1 cent an hour in wages, the dissolution of a rival employees' association and the employment of none but union men, was balloted on by nearly three thousand men yesterday. The votes were counted this morning, and, although no public statement was made of the vote, it was estimated that the radical men carried the referendum against the company by nearly 10 to 1.

An agreement between the union and the railway company exists whereby disagreement shall be settled by arbitration. Mr. Mahon, international president of the street car men, tried to exert his influence to avert any strike action and to urge that the union live up to the rule. A rupture, however, occurred between the local officials and President Mahon and he left their meeting with a statement that if the men struck without trying arbitration the general union would not support them in the issue.

CRUTCH-BOUND

The crutch is a poor substitute for legs, and affords a very inconvenient and tiresome mode of locomotion—there is no more pathetic sight than a person slowly and painfully moving along the street supported by these artificial limbs.

When Rheumatism settles in the bones and muscles of the legs, it is safe to predict that the victim will eventually become helpless and crutch-bound. The corrosive, irritating matter that is deposited in the joints and muscles causes the most intense pain, the knees and ankles swell, and when the natural oils and fluids that lubricate these parts are completely destroyed the joints become locked and the muscles drawn and stiff, and crutches a necessity.

The acid poisons that produce rheumatic pains form in the blood, and are distributed through the system, and lodged in the arms, shoulders, hands, back and feet, or other parts of the body—resulting often in total disability. A permanent cure of Rheumatism can be effected only by a complete cleansing of the blood, and no other remedy so surely accomplishes this as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acid effects, purifies and invigorates the stagnant blood, and the gritty particles are washed out or dislodged by the new rich blood, and relief comes to the pain-racked sufferer. S. S. S. leaves no morbid, irritating matter in the blood to reunite and produce another attack, but expels every atom of it from the system. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, and does not impair the digestion or general health like alkali or potash remedies.

Write for our special free book on Rheumatism, and if any medical advice or other information is wanted, our physicians will gladly furnish it without charge.

WHERE IS THE WATCHDOG?

Observationsat Random

Baggage man William Flowers was boiling over with rage several days ago when he held a passenger train for two women who were coming to Paducah over the St. Louis division of the I. C. and wanted to make connection with the Louisville accommodation train which leaves here about 7:50 a. m.

The St. Louis train was a little late and a telegram was sent by the women asking that the train be held a few minutes, until the arrival of the St. Louis passenger, as they wanted to go home near Louisville where a relative had died. Mr. Flowers secured the consent of officials to hold the train. The women learned when they got here that the train that was being held was an accommodation train, made all the stops and arrived at Louisville only a few minutes ahead of the fast passenger which leaves here at 11:35.

Baggage man Flowers looked about for the women, and at last found them seated in the waiting room of the depot.

"Are you the ladies for whom the train is being held?" he asked. "Yes sir," they replied, "we are the ones but we find that this is an accommodation train and we had just as soon take the fast passenger train and not be inconvenienced by the many stops, and any way we can get there nearly as quick on the fast train."

Mr. Flowers could do nothing more than wave the conductor a signal to start his train.

A well known young man of the city was sent to the train several days ago to meet a relative, a minister whom he had never seen in his life.

The young man was of the age when he thought he knew everything and above everything he prized his time, which was generally idly spent. The young man had a good description of his relative who was described as wearing a full Vandyke beard and nicely trimmed "Kaiser" mustache, but he had not counted on the minister shaving them off. This the preacher had done, and when the train arrived the young man could not locate his relative. He stood about until after the train had pulled out and walking over to the end of the station platform to await the coming of a car was questioned by a friend who asked what he was doing out to the depot.

"The governor," he explained, "sent me out to meet a hoke, an uncle Jimmie, but guess he did not come. The 'gesser' had a full Van Dyke crop with the 'Kaiser' trimmings but I don't see any 'What is it' out here answering that description, so I guess I will go home again."

The young man did not know at the time that his uncle was standing by his side listening to all that he said, and his mortification and embarrassment at meeting him several hours later at his father's store can easily be imagined.

"I see something in the paper about Jackson, Miss., and her enterprise," said Councilman J. G. Brooks yesterday. "That reminds me of my introduction to Jackson. It is indeed a good town, and the people there seemed to be of the lively, progressive sort when I was there about 40 years ago. It was during the war when I was there as a Johnny Reb. I came near being buried there. It was only due to a chance that my bones are not now resting there with the hundreds of slain who lost their lives in the battle, instead of moving about here doctoring the sick."

"It was a hand to hand conflict, and during its progress a big Yankee came towards me with his bayonet pointed straight for my vitals. I was up in the Zouave movements, and quickly parrying his thrust with my gun felled him with the butt, and he never knew how it happened."

"A person, however, never knows how much the action of a second may mean. If it hadn't been for my drill in certain movements, which every soldier did not know, that fellow would have killed me as dead as a door nail. As it was the twist of an arm did the work and ended his career instead of mine, and here I am 40 years later as good a man as I was then."

A popular young man has come to the conclusion that he is not a very good hand to guide young lady visitors to their homes when they leave Paducah. The other day he went to the train with a popular visitor and decided to accompany her to Princeton, and there see that she got on the right train for Henderson. He reached Princeton with her all right, and put her on what he supposed was the right train. He returned to Paducah and was surprised a short time afterwards to learn that the young lady was also back.

An investigation resulted in his learning that instead of putting her on the Henderson train he placed her on the Hopkinsville train, and she went in an opposite direction, and had to come all the way back to Paducah to get a fresh start. The same young man made his peace with her and was her escort when she started home again, but he was not allowed to go any further than the depot.

A number of the best shots attending the tournament, including local marksmen, are handicapped by the rain and several made poor scores, yesterday, the result of the weather.

"The falling rain interferes with the shooting more than is ordinarily supposed," one marksman said this morning. The rain, besides being detrimental in the ordinary way, prevents a clear sight, and the judgment in shooting is hampered by the water falling on the barrel and gun sight."

The shooters are out for the sport and do not let a little rain interfere with their sport. Yesterday the events were pulled off with as much speed as in better weather but of course the scores are poorer and the shooting not so interesting. Heretofore all shoots of importance have been attended by excellent weather, and the members of the local club are sorry their luck has been so bad this time.

The negroes employed by the railroad contractors on the Cairo extension of the I. C. have made themselves a terror to the residents in the Maxon Mills section by their drunken brawls and their shooting about the woods. It was suggested that the matter be placed in the hands of Sheriff Leo Potter but he says that it is not his business to interfere in such matters unless warrants have been issued.

"I wish the people would become better advised as to the duties of the sheriff," Mr. Potter said, "for every day I am asked to do something that does not come under my jurisdiction. A great many people have asked me to see to the Maxon Mills affair but I can do nothing in the matter unless warrants were issued."

Since the recent killing in that section, however, the colored laborers have been rather quiet and no trouble has been experienced.

Mr. Fred Kamleiter, the well known retired grocer, was pained a few days ago to note the death of his old commander, General Sigel, in New York. The deceased was one of the best known of the Union generals, and Mr. Kamleiter is doubtless the only man in Paducah who served under him. He speaks very highly of him as a commanding officer, and had heard nothing of him for a long time until he saw an account of his illness and subsequent death.

REPORTED SHORTAGE.

ELKS GRAND TREASURER SAID
TO BE $16,000 SHORT IN ACCOUNTS.

Salt Lake, Utah, August 27.—Official announcement has been made before the Elks' lodge in this city that a shortage of $16,000 has been discovered in the books of Ed S. Orris, of Buffalo, N. Y., grand treasurer of the grand lodge of Elks. Mr. Orris was re-elected at the recent session in Salt Lake. According to a member of the grand lodge, the shortage was not discovered by the auditing committee until after the election.

Mr. Orris, when confronted, stated that he could and would make the shortage good at once; but this, it is announced, has not been done. The official announcement does not state what action will be taken in the matter.

DEMOCRACY IN M'ORACKEN.

The Democracy in McOracken county is having a lovely time. Once upon a time the county Democratic committee had one chairman; then all things went well. Then there came another time when it had two chairmen, and then things did not go so well; then there is now a time when it has three chairmen, and things are growing worse; and this is not all. The committee is called together again to meet again next Friday for the purpose, we presume, of electing still another chairman, which will make four, and if we are to judge the future by the past, it will be only a short time before it will again be called together to elect a fifth one, and so on. We patiently await the final result.—Mayfield Messenger.

Judge W. D. Greer left this morning for Poplar Bluff, Mo., on a visit to his sister. He will be absent for about ten days on a vacation.

always indicate a weak heart. They are usually preceded or followed by palpitation or fluttering, and there may be pain in left side, a smothering sensation and shortness of breath. Such a heart should be treated at once, before the disease develops beyond control. Heart disease is as easily cured as other troubles if taken in time.

"I was subject to fainting spells, and many times I have fallen on the street. I was often compelled to sit down while walking to avoid falling. When physicians failed to help me, I took Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and was completely cured."

DAILY THOUGHT.

"To live nobly in this world one must forgive much, forget much and forbear much."

THE WEATHER.

Showers tonight and Thursday.

With two calls for a Democratic county committee meeting, the much divided Democrats ought to be able to get a quorum together.

Mayor Yeiser says the next assessment should be thorough and equitable. If it is everybody will be taxed justly and the rate will be reduced, in addition to a larger revenue being yielded.

Chicago must be either a mighty busy or a mighty wicked city. A careful canvass of the attendance at the churches Sunday last by the Record-Herald revealed the fact that only 14.4 per cent of the male and 17 per cent of the female population worshipped.

Some of the Democratic papers say that the Republican campaign book says nothing about the tariff. This may be true. There is nothing to say. The Republicans settled the tariff question long ago, and the people ratified their action by putting them back in office again.

Secretary Shaw has soundned a warning note to sports youths in the treasury department. A young man with an infallible plan for playing the races has been dismissed because he was herded in the announcement circulars that he held a responsible place in the treasury department. He can hereafter spend all his time playing the races, and if his scheme is a good one he probably won't miss the salary.

Several familiar chronic beggars in the city should be kept off the streets. It looks bad for a city. Tramps are promptly arrested for asking alms on the streets, but one or two local characters have made perpetual nuisances of themselves in this respect for several years past and been unmolested. Such people have no right to annoy the public. There is a place for them, and they should be relegated to it.

This coming month the people of Paducah are to vote on whether Paducah, a city and a growing one, shall cling to her old country ways and allow cows and other stock to run at large on the streets, or adopt the city method of requiring them all to be kept up. This question is one of more importance than would appear, as it has already been the means of causing Paducah to be ridiculed because a vote of the people has to be taken on a question of such obvious one-sidedness. It is not believed that there are enough people here with rural proclivities to vote that the cow shall continue to roam at large. The progressive people must prevail.

A paper of London called the Thunderer seems to be given to making a noise. It professes to think that the industrial situation in the United States is not as good as it was a year ago, and that all that secures as is the promise of an abundant harvest. This is probably a bird's-eye view of the situation and a mighty distorted one. Such ignorance is amusing but is not astonishing, coming as it does from London. The Thunderer has only to watch us. Prosperity and the Republican party are here to stay. Each makes the other secure, and as long as the people have both, the progress of the country will continue. The Thunderer ought to move out there to Lincoln, Neb., and consolidate with the late W. J. Bryan's "Commonest."

It is regretted that a vote has to be taken in a city the size of Paducah on the town cow question, but since it does, the progressive people should unite and wipe the oldhoppers off the face of the earth in the election next month. The cow owners have never had any foundation for their claim that the majority of the people of Paducah are in favor of allowing cows to run at large, and the vote will show it. The people of Paducah do not propose to have it go forth to the world that Paducah allows its streets to be used as a barnyard. The assessor's books show that there are but four cows owned in Paducah, but of course people who have flowers know better than that, for they can find more than that in their front yards most any night they leave the gate open. The vote, however, is not to deprive any one of his or her cow. The owners will probably try to make it appear that way, but the vote is simply to determine whether the majority of the people are in favor of allowing cows to run loose, or are in favor of those who own them keeping them on their own premises, except when being driven to and from the pastures.

STEAMSHIP SERVICE.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL TO RUN STEAMERS BETWEEN NEW ORLEANS AND HAVANA.

Chicago, Ill., August 27—At the offices of the Illinois Central in this city last night it was said that the company has decided to put in a weekly steamship service between New Orleans and Havana, and with this end in view has purchased of the Morgan line the steamers Excelsior and Chalmette. The railroad officials expect by this move to greatly increase both import and export traffic.

The Morgan Steamship Co. was controlled by the Southern Pacific interests. The official announcement of the sale of the Chalmette and Excelsior has not yet been made, but the statement comes on high authority that the service will begin October 1.

Limbe was in the possession of the Firmit soldiers from the Artibonite district. The fighting was severe and lasted from midnight last night to midday today. Many men on both sides were killed. The town was completely destroyed by fire.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Paducah, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at DuBois, Kohl and Co.

WERE HARDLY EDUCATED ENOUGH

Smart Commercial Traveler Knows How to Get Rid of Flies.

If you were a smart commercial traveler visiting a small town in the middle of the summer, when water was scarce, mosquitoes hurt, and flies alone were lively. At the hotel he took some cooling drinks and asked for a bed. The landlord said he could have half a dozen beds, because no one in the place wanted them—the flies would allow no sleep. The traveler smiled, paid for his room and retired. In the morning he went downstairs, looking fresh as paint and whistling merrily. All round were heavy-eyed men, who envied him his brisk spirits. The landlord marveled.

"Did you sleep?" he asked. "Like a top," was the answer. "Your flies don't know enough for me. I just closed the windows against new-comers, set a jar of honey on the floor and waited until the flies in the room had settled on it. Then I lived them with my sample box. No, your flies are hardly educated enough to heat me."

Worse Than Floral Plumes.

Back to the period whence the memory of man runneth not to the contrary the city of Philadelphia has stood as a metaphor for slowness, and at times during the last half century has been the "horrible example" in other respects. But it remains for a child to point it as more to be dreaded than the slipper net that place where had little boys and girls who tell stories are told they will go. In Wilmington, Del., a little girl who was called as a witness in one of the courts was asked impressively what would become of her if she wandered from the truth. Very promptly and quite unexpectedly she replied, with a shudder of fear, she would be "sent back to Philadelphia, and I don't want to go." So even the youngsters, who in their simple faith picture the worst forms of punishment look upon Philadelphia as a region still worse than the worst.

Concerning the Number Seven.

Numerous are the queer beliefs concerning the number seven, says the St. James Gazette. From the very earliest ages the seven great planets were known and ruled this world, and the dwellers in it, and their number entered into every conceivable matter that concerned man. There are seven days in the week, "seven holes in the head, for the master stars are seven," seven ages for both man and the world in which he lives. There are seven material heavens. There are seven colors in the spectrum, and seven notes in the diatonic octave, and the "leading" note of the scale is the seventh. Be it noted that the seventh son is not always gifted with beneficent powers. In Portugal he is believed to be subject to the powers of darkness and to be compelled every Saturday evening to assume the likeness of an ass.

Naming the Child.

Now, necessarily, when the new girl baby arrived there was much discussion among the members of the family as to what her name should be. "We will call her 'Geraldine,'" said the fond mother. "Why not call her 'Esmeralda'?" asked the first grandmother. "I saw that name in a story once, and always wanted to try it on a baby." "Oh," murmured the second grandmother, "that would never do. Let us call her 'Fanchon'." "But don't you think 'Eleanora' is a pretty name, and so odd, too?" put in one of the aunts. "Excuse me, ladies," ventured the poor father, who sat near by, "but you seem to forget what we are trying to find a name for a human being, and not for a 5-cent cigar."

Good Work is the Tenement.

Tenement tea drinkings are a form of hospitality introduced among the poor of the settlement workers. "Wouldn't you like to have a party in your tenement?" a settlement worker will ask a poor woman. "Yes, but I haven't got cups enough." "Oh, we will see to that. You just clean up a bit, make a fire and have the kettle boiling." So the invitations are sent out and the hostess gives her rooms such a cleaning as they have not had since she moved into them. The settlement folk bring tea, cakes, cups and all the paraphernalia necessary for the service. Pretty girls come, too, in play or to sing and to help things to move along smoothly.—New York Press.

Made a Fatal Mistake.

A new member of congress was very anxious to get upon the good side of Superintendent Smith of the botanic gardens, so that some flowers and potted plants might be sent to his house. As every one knows, Smith is a fine old Scotchman, who worships the memory of "Bobbie" Burns, and has probably the finest and most complete collection of editions of Burns' works in the world.

When, therefore, the new member went to Smith he resolved to say something which would please the lover of Burns. When he entered Smith's library he looked with interest upon the books.

"I always did love Jimmie Burns' poems," remarked the new member. "I never saw such a fine collection of his works. I think Jimmie Burns was one of the greatest men who ever lived."

At this point Mr. Smith could contain himself no further. "Jimmie Burns!" he exclaimed, angrily. "Tommy Washington! Sammy Bonaparte! Get out!"

And then the new member realized that he had made a mistake.

War of Extermination so Late.

The discovery of the part played by the ship rat in the carrying of plague from port to port has resulted in a war of extermination on the part of all progressive port sanitary authorities. In the port of London the rats have been destroyed literally by tens of thousands. A recently issued report states that between Nov. 24 and Dec. 31 six cases of plague and thirteen cases of enteric fever were dealt with and during that period 10,164 rats were destroyed. The medical officer of health in a further report for January says that 2,293 ships were inspected and 7,626 rats destroyed. The total number of rats accounted for since the commencement of the raid has amounted to considerably over 100,000. In one large steamer which was disinfected on account of smallpox no fewer than 1,000 dead rats were found after the process of fumigation.

Gladstone's Lack of Experience.

Herbert Gladstone's marriage recalls a story which was told of him a few years ago. The popular liberal whip was addressing a woman's suffrage meeting in Leeds one afternoon, and in the course of his speech he paid a graceful compliment to the eloquence of the ladies who had addressed the meeting. He further gallantly remarked on the great pleasure which it gives to the other sex to listen to women talking. Pausing for a moment after this observation, Mr. Gladstone, like his audience, was thrown into an unexpected state of merriment by a male voice, which proceeded from the back of the hall, and proclaimed in the broad Yorkshire dialect: "Eb, lad, thou'rt noan wed yet, I see'st!"

THE LANDLADY'S SON.

SET RIGHT BY A BOARDER.

Most people are creatures of habit. The person who thinks he cannot get along without his morning drink of coffee is pretty hard to convince unless he is treated like Mrs. Clara Hoffman of Portland, Ore., treated her landlady's son. She says: "Having suffered with stomach trouble for several years I determined to discontinue the use of coffee and try Postum Food Coffee."

"I carefully followed directions for making and the result was a beverage very pleasing to the taste. I induced my husband to give it a trial and soon noticed the improvement."

"He complained of 'heart trouble,' but as he drank coffee I felt sure that this was the cause. It proved to be so, for after having used Postum for a short time his 'heart trouble' completely disappeared."

"Last year we went East, and while there boarded with a private family. Our landlady complained of sleeplessness and her son of obstinate stomach trouble. It was a plain case of coffee poisoning in both. Knowing what Postum had done for me, I advised a trial, but the son declared he wanted none of that 'weak, watery stuff.' Well, I had been making Postum Coffee for myself and husband, and next morning I offered him a cup and he drank it, not knowing what it was. 'Well,' I said, 'you seem to like Postum after all.' 'What,' he exclaimed, 'that was not Postum; why, that tasted fine. Mother, if you learn to make it like this I will always drink it.' The next morning she watched me and I explained the importance of 'allowing it to boil long enough.' After that we all drank it regularly and our landlady and her son soon began to get well. They continued its use after we returned home and recently wrote me that they are improving daily."

ELKS' FUNDS INTACT.

GRAND EXALTED RULER PERSONALLY SATISFIED HIMSELF.

Omaha, Neb., August 27.—George P. Cronk, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, says: "Regarding the funds of the organization, I have just returned from Meadville, Pa., where I have been checking up the accounts of the treasurer. I find that every dollar of the Elks' money is intact, and it is now on deposit in the Bank of Meadville and in New York drafts. There were some reports current with regard to the funds, and not wishing to enter upon my new duties without first knowing the status of the matter, I went personally to Meadville to check up the books. Of what transpired there I am not in a position to speak at this time, but may have a statement later. I was taken to Meadville at this time because I was unable to secure by telegraph a verification of the report of the auditing committee. You may say that I found the books balance and the money of the organization in proper hands."

ARNOLD STOCK COMPANY.

Lattimore and Leigh, that mysterious team, who will present their marvelous substitution mystery between the acts of the Arnold Stock company's performances, offer $1,000 to anyone who can detect them in this great illusion that has mystified every one that has ever seen it, and to say that this great act alone is worth the price of admission is but putting it mildly, for when it is taken into consideration that one of these gentlemen, who is bound, sewed in a sack, sealed with sealing wax and then placed in an iron-bound box, which is locked by a committee from the audience, who retain the keys in their possession, on the single firing of a revolver appears in the audience and straightway proceeds to take his partner from the box, in which he himself was placed only a moment before. It is certainly something wonderful and a feature that stands alone by itself in the history of the amusement world.

TRAGEDY AT MEMPHIS.

A WELL KNOWN DRUGGIST SHOT DOWN FOR CAUSES UNKNOWN.

Memphis, August 27.—J. A. W. Sommer, a member of the retail firm of Gelselmann and Sommer, was shot and fatally wounded last evening by P. A. Sawyer.

The shooting occurred about 7 o'clock. The men met on Beale street in front of the Walnut Palace saloon. "I've got you now," Sawyer is quoted as saying as the men approached each other. Then he opened fire. Four shots were fired at Sommer. Two of the bullets struck him. Sommer did not shoot. He tried to get out of the way by running into an alley. There is where he fell.

Sawyer was placed under arrest a few minutes after the shooting. Sommer died at 1 o'clock. He climbed up to the last that he didn't know the cause of the shooting, and the other man refuses to explain it.

She'll Sing Hereafter.

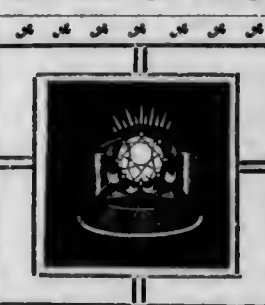

A charming young lady, who glories in the possession of a wealth of bright auburn-colored hair, is the teacher of a Sunday school class. On a recent Sabbath the rector made the announcement of a hymn to be sung, and, rising, waved his hands, and the organ pealed forth.

"Now," said he, "ready—sing." A small and precocious youth in the young woman's class said: "Why don't you sing, Miss Frisbee?" "Me? Oh, I never sing," replied the teacher, smiling her prettiest. "But," exclaimed the boy, "the minister says you must. Didn't he just say, 'Now, Reddy, sing!'" Smiling sadly and numerous other restoratives had to be used to bring the teacher out of her faint.

KIDNAPPED

THE ADVENTURES OF DAVID BALFOUR IN THE YEAR 1751

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

CHAPTER I.

I SET OFF UPON MY JOURNEY TO THE HOUSE OF SHAW.

I will begin the story of my adventures with a certain morning early in the month of June, the year of grace seventeen hundred and fifty-one, when I took the key for the last time out of the door of my father's house. The sun began to shine upon the summit of the hills as I went down the road, and by the time I had come as far as the manse the blackbirds were whistling in the garden lilacs, and the mist that hung around the valley in the time of the dawn was beginning to arise and die away.

Mr. Campbell, the minister of Essendean, was waiting for me by the garden gate, good man! He asked me if I had breakfasted, and hearing that I lacked for nothing he took my hand in both of his and clasped it kindly under his arm. "Well, David, lad," said he, "I will go with you as far as the ford, to set you on the way."

And we began to walk forward in silence. "Are ye sorry to leave Essendean?" said he, after awhile. "Why, sir," said I, "if I knew where I was going, or what was likely to become of me, I would tell you candidly. Essendean is a good place indeed, and I have been very happy there; but then I have never been anywhere else. My father and mother, since they are both dead, I shall be no nearer to in Essendean than in the kingdom of Hungary; and to speak truth, if I thought I had a chance to better myself where I was going, I would go with a good will."

"Aye!" said Mr. Campbell. "Very well, David. Then it behooves me to tell your fortune, or so far as I may. When your mother was gone and your father (that worthy, Christian man) began to sicken for his end he gave me in charge a certain letter, which he said was your inheritance. 'So soon,' says he, 'as I am gone and the house is ready and the gear disposed of (all which, David, hath been done) give my boy this letter into his hand and start him off to the house of Shaws, not far from Cramond. That is the place I came from,' he said, 'and it's where it befits that my boy should return. He is a steady lad,' your father said, 'and a canny goer, and I doubt not he will come safe and be well liked where he goes.'"

"The house of Shaws!" I cried. "What had my poor father to do with the house of Shaws?" "Nay," said Mr. Campbell, "who can tell that for a surety? But the name of that family, David, boy, is the name you hear—Balfours of Shaws; an ancient, honest, reputable house, pre-eminence in these latter days decayed. Your father, too, was a man of learning as befit his position; no man more plausibly conducted school; nor had he the manner or the speech of a common domineer; but (as ye will yourself remember) I took aye a pleasure to have him to the manse to meet the gentry, and those of my own house—Campbell of Kilrenn, net, Campbell of Duxwire, Campbell of Minch and others, all well-kenned gentlemen, had pleasure in his society. Lastly, to put all the elements of this affair before you, here is the testamentary letter itself, superscribed by the awn hand of our departed brother."

"I have here a little packet which contains four things."

He gave me the letter, which was addressed in these words, "To the hands of Ebenezer Balfour, Esquire, of Shaws, in his house of Shaws, these will be delivered by my son, David Balfour." My heart was beating hard at this great prospect now suddenly opening before me of sixteen years of age, the son of a poor country domineer in the forest of Ettrick.

"Mr. Campbell," I stammered, "and if you were in my shoes, would you go?" "Of a surety," said the minister, "that would I, and without pause. A pretty lad like you should get to Cramond (which is near in by Edinburgh) in two days of walk. 'If the worst came to the worst, and your high relations (as I cannot but suppose them to be somewhat of your blood) should put you to the door, you can but walk the two days back again and risk at the manse door. But I would rather hope that ye shall be well received as your poor father forecast for you, and for anything that I ken, come to be a great man in time. And here, David, lad," he resumed, "it lies near upon my conscience to improve this parting, and set you on the right guard against the dangers of the world."

Here he cast about for a comfortable seat, lighted on a big boulder under a hich by the track side, sat down upon it with a very long, serious upper lip, and the sun now shining in upon us between two peaks, put his pocket handkerchief over his cocked hat to shelter him. There then, with uplifted forefinger, he first put me on my guard against a considerable number of heresies, to which I had no temptation, and urged upon me to be instant in my prayers and reading of the Bible. That done, he drew a picture of the great house that I was bound to, and how I should conduct myself with its inhabitants.

"Be soople, David, in things immaterial," said he. "Bear ye this in mind, that, though gentle born, ye have had a country rearing. Dinnae shame us, David; dinnae shame us! In yon great muckle house, with all these domestics, upper and under, show yourself as nice, as circumspect, as quick at the conception, and as slow of speech as any. As for the laird—remember he's the laird; I say no more; honor to whom honor. It's a pleasure to obey a laird, or should be, to the young."

"Well, sir," said I, "it may be, and I'll promise you I'll try to make it so." "Why, ye've well said," replied Mr. Campbell heartily. "And now to come to the material or (to make a quibble) to the immaterial. I have here a little packet which contains four things." He tagged it as he spoke, and with some difficulty, from the skirt pocket of his coat. "Of these four things, the first is your legal due—the little pickle money for your father's books and pen-inking, which I have bought (as I have explained from the first) in the design of reselling at a profit to the incoming domineer. The other three are gifts that Mrs. Campbell and myself would be little of your acceptance. The first, which is round, will likely please ye best at the first off go; but, oh, David, lad! it's but a drop of water in the sea; it'll help you hnt a step, and vanish like the morning. The second, which is flat and square and written upon, will stand by you through life, like a good staff for the road and a good pillow to your head in sickness. And as for the last, which is cabical, that'll see you, it's my prayerful wish, into a better land."

With that he got upon his feet, took off his hat, and prayed a little while aloud, and in affecting terms, for a young man setting out into the world; then suddenly took me in his arms and embraced me very hard; then held me at arm's length, looking at me with his face all working with sorrow, and then whipped about, and crying goodby to me set off backward by the way that he had come at a sort of a jogging run. It might have been laughable to another; but I was in no mind to laugh. I watched him as long as he was in sight, and he never stopped hurrying, nor once looked back. Then it came in upon my mind that this was all his sorrow at my departure, and my conscience smote me hard and fast, because I, for my part, was overjoyed to get away out of that quiet countryside, and go to a great, busy house, among rich and respected gentlemen of my own name and blood.

"David, David," I thought, "was ever seen such black ingratitude? Can you forget old favors and old friends at the mere whistle of a naeve? Fy, fy; think shame!" And I sat down on the boulder the good man had just left and opened the parcel to see the nature of my gifts. That which he had called cabical I had never had much doubt of. Sure enough, it was a little Bible, to carry in a plaid penk. That which he had called round I found to be a shilling piece, and the third, which was to help me so wonderfully both in health and sickness all the days of my life, was a little piece of coarse, yellow paper, written upon thus in red ink:

"To Make Lilly of the Valley Water—Take the flowers of lily of the valley and distill them in sack, and drink a spoonful or two as there is occasion. It restores speech to those that have the dumb palsy. It is good against the Gout; it comforts the heart and strengthens the memory; and the flowers, put into a Glass, close stout and set into a hill of ants for a month, then take it out, and you will find a liquor which comes from the flowers, which keep in a vial. It is good, ill or well, and whether man or woman."

And then in the minister's own hand was added:

"Likewise for sprains rub it in, and for the cholick a great spoonful in the hour."

To be sure, I laughed over this; but it was rather tremulous laughter, and I was glad to get my bundle on my staff's end and set out over the ford and up the hill upon "the farther side," till, just as I came on the green drove road, running wide through the heather, I took my last look of Kirk Essendean, the trees about the manse, and the big rowans in the kirkyard where my father and my mother lay.

CHAPTER II.

I COME TO MY JOURNEY'S END.

On the forenoon of the second day, coming to the top of a hill, I saw all the country fall away before me down to the sea, and in the midst of this descent, on a long ridge, the city of Edinburgh smoking like a kiln.

Presently after I came by a house where a shepherd lived and got a rough direction for the neighborhood of Cramond.

A little farther on, and I was told I was in Cramond parish, and began to substitute in my inquiries the name of the house of Shaws. It was a word that seemed to surprise those of whom I sought my way. At first I thought the plainness of my appearance in my country habit, and that all dusty from the road, consorted ill with the greatness of the place to which I was bound. But after two, or maybe three, had given me the same look and the same answer, I began to take it in my head there was something strange about the Shaws itself.

The better to set this fear at rest I changed the form of my inquiries, and spying an honest fellow coming along nane on the shaft of his cart I asked him if he had ever heard tell of a house they called the house of Shaws.

He stopped his cart and looked at me, like the others.

"Aye," said he, "What for?"

"It's a great house?" I asked.

"Doubtless," said he, "The house is a big, muckle house."

"Aye," said I, "but the folk that are in it?"

"Folk?" cried he, "Are ye daft? There's nae folk there—to call folk."

"What?" says I; "not Mr. Ebenezer?"

"Oh, aye," says the man; "there's the laird, to be sure, if it's him ye're waiting. What'll like be your business, mannie?"

"I was led to think that I would get n situation," I said, looking as modest as I could.

"What?" cries the carter in so sharp a note that his very horse started, and then, "Well, mannie," he added, "it's nae of my affairs, but ye seem a decent spoken lad, and if ye'll take a word from me ye'll keep clear of the Shaws."

"It's loaded," said a voice.

The next person I came across was a dapper little man in a beautiful white wig, whom I saw to be a barber on his rounds, and knowing well that barbers were great gossips I asked him plainly what sort of a man was Mr. Balfour, of the Shaws.

"Hoot, hoot, hoot," said the barber, "nae kind of a man, nae kind of a man at all," and began to ask me very shrewdly what my business was; but I was more than a match for him at that, and he went on to his next customer no wiser than he came.

I cannot well describe the blow this dealt to my illusions. If an hour's walking would have brought me back to Essendean I had left my adventure then and there and returned to Mr. Campbell's. But I was out of mere self-respect to carry it through, and little as I liked the sound of what I heard, and slow as I began to travel, I still kept asking my way and still kept advancing.

TELEPHONE POLES.

THE ERECTION OF THEM CAUSING CONSIDERABLE TROUBLE.

The railroad, light and telegraph committee of the general council met this morning at the city hall to look into the telephone pole matter, but no definite action was taken.

A number of citizens and the Cumberland Telephone people were complaining that the independent people were placing poles on both sides of the street in many instances, which is not in accordance with the ordinance that is now with the two boards for passage. The ordinance states that the poles shall not be placed on the same side of the street where poles of another company are standing. The ordinance has not yet been passed and the mayor said this morning when asked about the matter that the ordinance was not in effect yet and that no violation of it could be made.

The committee decided to investigate the matter more thoroughly and look over the territory where poles have been placed. It is claimed by the independent people that the poles are being set as the franchise calls for. The committee will go over the territory where the independent people have placed poles and will make a full report to the council and board of aldermen at the next meeting.

THREE STATES.

VISITED YESTERDAY BY PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

Angusta, Me., Aug. 27—President Roosevelt yesterday passed through three states, delivered eight speeches and received the plaudits of a quarter of a million people. The greeting which has marked his progress through New England has been flattering in the extreme, and today's experience demonstrated his popularity perhaps more than ever before. Everywhere at the regular stops and the smaller stations along the road the people were strenuous in their efforts to catch a glimpse of him or to hear him speak, and at Haverhill, Mass., this desire assumed such a form that the crowds completely overrode the police and surrounded the president's carriage, making it difficult for it to advance.

DECLINE IN WAGES.

SHOWN FOR THE FIRST TIME IN UNITED KINGDOM SINCE 1895.

London, August 27—The annual report of the labor department of the board of trade records a decline in the wages bill of the United Kingdom for the first time since 1895. The decrease was mostly in miners' wages, no less than 625,000 miners being affected during the first half of 1902. The reports say it is satisfactory to note the increased tendency to settle changes of wages by conciliation or arbitration. Only 2 per cent of the workers whose wages were reduced in 1901 engaged in disputes on this account.
